red dot design award

Firephant has been designed by the acclaimed Swedish industrial designer duo Lars Wettre and Jonas Forsman. The product was awarded the international red dot design award, best of the best within product design in 2012, in which it was praised for its design as well as its simplicity and reliable functionality. In 2011, Apple's iPhone 4 received the very same award in this prestigious competition.

Designed for life

Firephant has the highest extinguishing performance in its class and ably meets standardised requirements. Thanks to its one-handed operation, the extinguisher is both easy to use and understand, while also incredibly precise. Its handy size (1 kg and 2 kg) and a choice of colours in either red or white enable Firephant to fit perfectly into our modern homes, villas, hotels, offices, corporate buildings, cars, etc. wherever you need dependable safety equipment.
